Please provide your comments on what information should be required here.:

After moving to Perth 5 years ago from the UK, I have been amazed at the wildlife and scenery along the coast.

I've now been on several holidays to Exmouth for the surfing and fishing, and am constantly blown away by the nearly completely unspoilt area. The wildlife, both on and offshore is on your doorstep.

The fishing is completely world class (and I practice catch and release). It's totally amazing what can be caught in knee deep water.

I am utterly speechless that this development is even considered. You have a pristine marine environment, and rather than looking to exploit it the environment should be totally protected. Once it's gone it's gone. Please, just leave the area alone.
